Additional Waste codes; D005, D006, D007, D008, D009, D010, D011, D012, D013, D018, D019, D020, D022, D027, D028, D029, D030, D031, D038, D039, D040, D043, F002, F003, F005, F019, F032, F034, F035, F037, F038, K001, K043, K048, K049, K050, K051, K088, K099, K141, K142, K143, K169, K170, K171, P004, P020, P037, P050, P051, P059, P123, U036, U052, U060, U061, U188, U210, U228, U239, U240, U279.

5. 256.56(5)(i) A description of the efforts undertaken during the year to reduce the volume and toxicity of waste generated; CWMNW is a Part B permitted TSDF; in cases where volumes of waste being generated by our customers are accepted for transfer to another permitted facility, volume and toxicity reduction are not available to the facility. Additionally CWMNW operates a Organics Recovery Unit that treats certain types of hazardous wastes in a manner that;
- a) Creates a recyclable petroleum oil; 10% to 15% of original mass treated
 - b) Reduces the toxicity of the bulk of the waste to below LDR standards
 - c) Creates a residual, <5% of the original mass, that is required to be sent offsite for further treatment.

CWMNW continually works to further increase efficiency of the Organics Recovery Process, however the residual created is highly influenced by the original waste characteristics and not necessarily the efficiency of the process.

6. 256.56(5)(ii) A description of the changes in volume and toxicity of the waste actually achieved during the year in comparison to previous years to the extent such information is available for years prior.

The Organics Recovery Unit process began operation in the 2008-2009 time period, increases in residual volumes are attributed to the processing of more volumes of waste through the Organics Recovery Unit year over year. No significant decreases in toxicity have occurred during this time period with respect to the Organics Recovery Unit.
